

A Day at the Boarding House

Girls get up 6:30 a.m. They would wash faces, dress, eat breakfast and do chores until school started. They would sweep, help cook all the meals, clean the dining room, look after the younger girls, mending clothes, mend socks, and help with laundry. Nuns taught the girls how to sew. The boys were taught crafts such as beading, mending clothes, do laundry and mend socks. After school boys and girls helped with looking after boarding houses. They had to study from 7:00 to 8:00. They went to bed at 8:00
